

Lindow Man Leaflet project

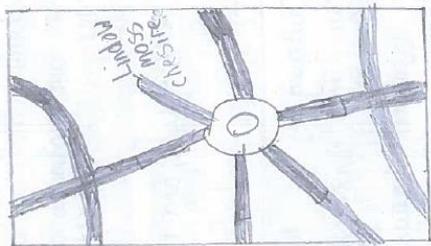

The Lindow man / pete marsh.

US CONVENY:

The Lindow mans leg was discovered by Andy Mould on the 1st August 1984. His death is still a murder mystery because nobody knows how and why he got murdered. A dedicated archaeologist team Wheat and Mould found the rest of his body.

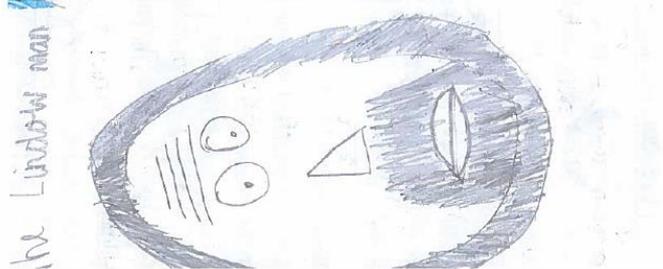

Din Besic

tau and ne was oing (9 1/2 stone). He had very clean nails because he had probably done very little at work. He had prominent brow ridges, and had no ear lobes.

Daily life:

Judging by his well-manicured fingernails, it's unlikely that he did much manual labour leading to suggestions that he held a respectable position such as a druid priest.

The Lindow man

Meet Lindow man:

In the 1st August 1984 man called Andy Mould and a man's leg in Lindow Moss, Cheshire. It was named the Lindow man because of where it was found.

What he ate:

Before the Lindow man got eaten, murdered and buried, he had eaten his last meal which was pancakes, bread and wheat.

Appearance:

He had facial hair including a beard and a mustache. He was approximately 16% on

We liked this one because:

- The hand-drawn pictures and Celtic patterns were very visually appealing.
- It was great that there was a map to show where Lindow Man was found.
- There were some very interesting sentences, such as "Judging by his well-manicured fingernails, it's unlikely that he did much manual labour leading to suggestions that he held a respectable position such as priest."

READ ABOUT A MAN'S GREAT HISTORY PAST

Who was he?
What was he famous for?
Find it all in the leaflets.

Parasitic worms, well maintained
Fungemills and some bread.

What was his appearance?
Lindow had a head, hands, eyes
throughout he had a small, small, thin height was approximately 155cm and and his weight was 60kg. A had a facial hair that had been one of his spots also has nose
was enough for the head, fingers nails.

Conclusion
In conclusion his death is a pity
Even though he had been shot
at the wheel with a wrong aim
we still don't know killed him.

THE LINDOW MAN
The extraordinary history awaits

Handwritten text on the left side of the cover, including the title 'READ ABOUT A MAN'S GREAT HISTORY PAST' and a question 'Who was he? What was he famous for? Find it all in the leaflets.' Below the title is a small illustration of a man's face and a book titled 'Pet Parasite'. The right side of the cover features a large illustration of a man's face with the title 'THE LINDOW MAN' and a tagline 'The extraordinary history awaits'. Below the illustration is a small illustration of a man's face and a book titled 'Pet Parasite'.

Introduction
On August 1st 1924 an unexpected discovery was found in Lindow. Mrs.
Christine A. was busy with her children under the folds of her big heavy coat, and because of this a mystery
discovery of nature was given to Lindow.
Now this is the present. He was also called, Pet Parasite. His death is a mystery.

What was his lifestyle like?
He had, dark, go, naturally, with because of the fact, well, maintained.
Fungemills. Because he had, had lost weight, was, small, bread, made out of wheat, and, today, the, and, bread, from, possible, worms.

What was his appearance?
Lindow had a head, hands, eyes
throughout he had a small, small, thin height was approximately 155cm and
and his weight was 60kg. A
had a facial hair that had been one of his spots also has nose
was enough for the head, fingers nails.

Conclusion
In conclusion his death is a pity
Even though he had been shot
at the wheel with a wrong aim
we still don't know killed him.

Parasitic worms, well maintained
Fungemills and some bread.

Handwritten text on the right side of the cover, including the title 'READ ABOUT A MAN'S GREAT HISTORY PAST' and a question 'Who was he? What was he famous for? Find it all in the leaflets.' Below the title is a small illustration of a man's face and a book titled 'Pet Parasite'. The right side of the cover features a large illustration of a man's face with the title 'THE LINDOW MAN' and a tagline 'The extraordinary history awaits'. Below the illustration is a small illustration of a man's face and a book titled 'Pet Parasite'.

We liked this one because:

- The tag-line on the front cover ("The extraordinary history awaits") was very striking and made us want to read more.
- The captions for the pictures were very professional-looking.
- It is well laid out and clear to read inside.

MANCHESTER
The University of Manchester
The Manchester Museum

APPROXIMATELY IN 1984
WHEN FARMER
IN THE SOUND TO LAND

THE LINDOW MAN WAS GIVEN A NICKNAME CALLED FARMER SHEPHERD WAS 25 YEARS OLD WHEN HE UNFORTUNATELY DIED AT A BRUTAL DEATH.
HE WAS THE BEST PRESERVED PRESERVED IRON AGE BOG BODY. THE SCIENTISTS CALCULATED HIS BODY WEIGHT AND HEIGHT.

AND HE HAD BLUE EYES, MOUNTAIN AND A BEARD A LEATHER SKIN WITH A VEIL AND HIS THICK
OVER THE RIGID NEAVE RECONSTRUCTED HIS FACE

HOW WAS HE DISCOVERED?
IN 1984 A FARMER
PLOUGHING HIS FIELD STOPPED FOR THE QUICKLY AS HE WAS WHAT SOMEONE ALUMP OF LEAD IN THE LABOR.

WAS A KILN MAN LEAD PRE-SURVEYED BY THE FARMER FOR SOME WHAT REASONS
THE LINDOW MAN WAS DISCOVERED BY THE FARMER IN 1984

WAY OF HIM AS HE WAS PLOUGHING HIS FIELD. HE WALKED TO THE FIELD UP THE WOOD AND HE FOUND A CROSS THE FIELD
AS IT WENT THROUGH THE MUD AND PARTLY OFF WHEN THE FARMER LOOKED AT IT HE SAW WHAT HE THOUGHT WAS A KILN MAN LEAD

Directions:
The University of Manchester is in the city center of Manchester
M13 9PL

Address:
The University of Manchester
Oxford Road
Manchester
M13 9PL

Opening times:
Every day from 10am to 5pm

Address:
The University of Manchester
Oxford Road
Manchester
M13 9PL

We liked this one because:

- You painted a great picture of how the body was discovered by the farmer (“...a farmer ploughing his field stopped rather quickly...”)
- You explain why the Lindow Man is an important scientific discover (“the best known and best preserved Iron age bog body”)
- There was lots of very informative detail about the Museum.